CORE RESPONSIBILITIES

REGIONAL EVENT SUPPORT

- Led by
JUSTIN WHEELER
LUIS BAZAN
In the previous term
- Support and coordinate budget requests for events across various regions, acting as a liaison between the regions, the Fedora Community Architect, and the wider committee.
- Review funding requests, ensuring the regional representative advocates for the sponsorship approval and that requests adhere to a clearly defined process, like that of Fedora Advocate.
- Lower the barrier of entry to Fedora Project for local presence by ensuring active regional representation and assisting the Fedora Community Architect in planning events.

RECOGNITION SERVICE

- Led by
AKASHDEEP DHAR
GREGORY SUTCLIFFE
In the previous term
- Recognise the efforts of contributors across the project by working with project teams (like quality assurance, design team, release engineering, etc.) to reward contributors.
- Develop and implement a recognition system including review frequency, reward reception, process building and community metrics - while presenting these to Fedora Council.

DIGITAL AMBASSADORSHIP

- Led by
EMMA KIDNEY
JOSEPH GAYOSO
In the previous term
- Operate on a clear social media framework built around various target audiences like global, regional and personal to promote Fedora Project and its offerings.
- Work with the Marketing Team to structure, resource and support Fedora Project's brand and communication goals by being a conduit between involved parties.

COMMUNITY HEALTH

Action items for Recognition Service team from Fedora Council Strategy Summit 2026 #116

This action item includes a necessary activity prescribed from the discussions that took place during the Fedora Council Strategy Summit 2026, for the Recognition Service team of the Fedora Middleware committee.

- Make progress on the Fedora Badges Revamp Project by onboarding contributors in the ongoing efforts and sharing updates with the community and with the Fedora Council regularly along the way.
- Update with the Data WG to lower their deliverables into designing community health metrics and the tangible contributor recognition programme, while sharing progress updates on a regular basis.

The aforementioned requirements are expected to be completed and reported upon by the commencement of the annual flagship community conference, Flock To Fedora 2026 (that is, on or before 16th June 2026).

I can provide updates on the Fedora Badges Revamp Project's progress. (@sdlgtlchd, @atompant and I are participating in meetings in this Community context. We have also gotten ourselves on items who would start working with us from 16th May 2026 onward. We are expecting to have a staging deployment with the advancements made available to the community by the Flock To Fedora 2026's commencement (i.e. by 16th June 2026), and/or have regular updates provided on community platforms.

@genniglen, do you have any updates to provide on the community data health metrics? Is there anyway we can help you?

#166 Proposal for Tangible Contributor Recognition Awards under Fedora Middleware Recognition Service

genniglen commented 3 weeks ago

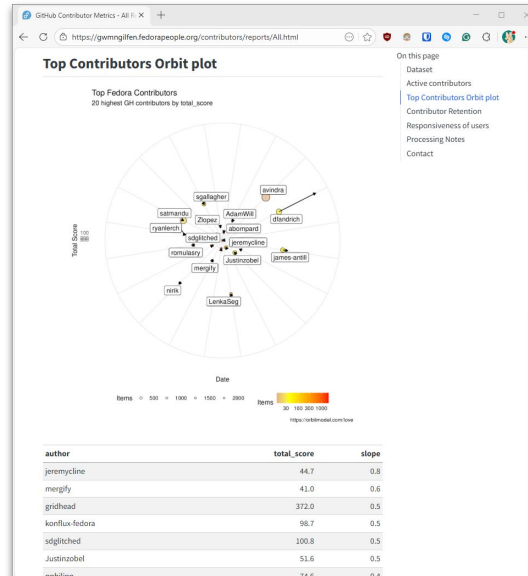

@thec0der Sadly, I do not. I have not had the time to get on top of this, and I don't see that changing in the next few weeks.

I believe the Data WG is coming out from under CouncilOps, so I wonder if @genniglen or @sdlgtlchd would be able to join the discussion directly to help inform us on what's available today, and what might be feasible in the new future?

FW @sdlgtlchd is taking some time away from open source work at least Flock, and possibly longer.

FW as depicted in context around this. Everyone seems to have had their hands full with the new cohort and others, so
